Washington, June 24.—Important measures extending Federal regulation and control have been enacted at the first session of the fifty-ninth Congress after the worst debates on record.

The railroad rate and the meat inspection bills will soon become law and before adjournment both Houses will have passed pure food bills, which, though dissimilar in terms, are drawn on the same principle. It is the present intention to try and adjust these differences before adjournment.

There has been no marked division on party lines in effecting the above results, the differences being as to ways and means rather than as to policy.

Besides branching off into this new field of legislative endeavor the present session has made itself important in other ways. It has added one, and perhaps two new States to the Union and by so doing has disposed of four Territories.

Great results to the people are expected from the removal of the tax on denatured alcohol if predictions are fulfilled; heat, light and power are to be supplied by alcohol made from the

By a deft turn of legislative points of view, the questions that have perplexed Congress for some time regarding the Panama Canal have been settled.

The President may dig a look back as fast as he pleases. A joint resolution was agreed to requiring canal supplies to be of American manufacture.

Congress has not dealt with the foreign situation to any extent. An act making a much needed reorganization of the consular service was passed. Nothing was done in the Santo Domingo controversy and the legislation affecting colonial possessions was meager and unimportant, although tariff revision for the Philippines received the attention and approval of the House and an act was passed revising the tariff collected by the Philippine government. A coinage act for the islands also was passed.

But Congress talked about our own tariff law. It broke the record for words. Hundreds of thousands more than have been uttered at any one session were compiled in the Congressional Record. Not only on the floors of the two Houses has the word record been heavy but the public relations resulting from committee sessions on tariff subjects are larger and more numerous than at any previous session.

A large number of bills were introduced in the two Houses. The calendar records that the number has reached 20,000. Five hundred more than were introduced during the entire three sessions of the last Congress.

APPROPRIATIONS ECONOMICAL.

Before discussing the number of acts passed, it is interesting to note that with all the strenuous exertions of an appropriation committee in the House, with a new chairman—Representative Tammey—it has been impossible to hold the appropriations down to much less than $900,000,000, although "economy" was the watchword from the start.

One of the important features of the session has been the careful scrutiny with which the demands of the different government departments have been received by the House Appropriation Committee.

The hearings accorded to government officials asking for money to run their departments and bureaus have been more exhaustive than ever before. The result has been the enactment of restraining legislation on nearly every appropriation bill, which will have a beneficial effect hereafter.

In this class is undoubtedly that requiring the heads of all executive departments to apportion the appropriations they receive in equal parts to

MURDER OF BOY CONFESSED.

Railroad Man at Sheridan, Wyo., Mistaken Lad of Ten for an Enemy.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SHERIDAN (Wyo.) June 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Eickhoff, an employee of the Burlington road, has confessed to the murder of Walter Oelshlager, a 10-year-old boy, whose body was found near the water tank at Ranchester, a few days ago.

Eickhoff stated that he mistook the boy in the darkness for another employee, against whom he had a grudge, and says he was drunk at the time.

At first it was supposed that the boy had been robbed and murdered.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, June 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Announcement was made in Wall street yesterday that tentative plans are being worked out for the unification of all the large independent telephone interests of the country for the purpose of greater development and for resisting the Bell monopoly.

A committee representing the principal independent companies has been in session in New York for several days and this committee will report to a meeting of telephone companies which has been called for next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Chicago.

Representatives of all the independent companies in the United States will be present at this meeting and the details of this movement will be thrashed out.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, June 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Emperor William, when he was certain of the day on which Mr. and Mrs. Longworth would arrive here, telegraphed to the Princess Elise Frederick asking if she could not come to Kiel at once so that Mrs. Longworth could be entertained aboard the Hamburg, the Emperor's improvised yacht.

It is the Emperor's rule never to invite women on board his vessels unless the Empress or one of the imperial princesses is present.

Empress Augusta Victoria, it is understood, desires to remain near the crown princess, and Princess Henry of Prussia is taking a holiday in Bavaria and Princess Elise Frederick, who also is a bride, had arranged to go on a cruise in the Hamburg, the imperial yacht, after the regatta, but on receiving the Emperor's telegram she came from Potsdam immediately, arriving here Saturday evening with Prince Elise, and Mr. and Mrs. Longworth were invited to dine with the Emperor tonight.

It was quite an American evening. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Longworth the three Amours, Allison, Howard and George, and Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Mott were present. Princess Elise was amiable and Emperor William jolly and complimentary to America and Americans.

After the dinner the Princess Elise, with her guests, and the Emperor's staff, went on the quarter-deck of the Hamburg to witness the illuminations. The clubhouse, the hotel and other buildings were outlined in electric lights and the sixteen battleships, ten cruisers and twelve merchant ships and a hundred yachts in the harbor were strung with incandescent globes, while many searchlights playing about made a gorgeous scene.

Just above the room in the hotel occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Longworth the Stars and Stripes in colored lights. A great assemblage from Kiel and neighboring towns crowded the water front to witness the illumination.

WARSHIPS SHOOT FIREWORKS.

Mr. and Mrs. Longworth were detained by Emperor William until after 11 o'clock. The illuminations ended with every warship sending up blazing rockets.

The large class of yachts raced again today. Emperor William took with him on board the Meteor, Prince Albrecht and his three younger brothers, and Commander Philip W. Dumas, and Capt. Jonquieres, naval attaches respectively, of the United States, Great Britain and France. He served all of them at lunch with his own hands, in return for the gift of a free library, and the freedom of the Painters' Guild.

At the latter function Mr. Carnegie made a public confession of faith as to what he considers the true inwardness of his American citizenship.

"We may have Frenchmen, Germans, Russians, Italians in America, but the prominent type is your type. I want you to think of those across the Atlantic not as a separate race.

"The population of America is increasing by two millions annually and by the end of the century there will be more than 100,000,000 of English-speaking people. That is the race I belong to.

MRS. KAUFFMANN ILL IN JAIL.

PIERRE (S. D.) June 24.—The Supreme Court yesterday handed down a decision admitting to bail Mrs. Moses Kauffmann of Sioux Falls, who is accused of having beaten her husband Agnes Polreis to death while the latter was in her employ as a domestic.

Bonds were fixed at $5,000. Mrs. Kauffmann is now in jail and is said to be in a critical condition.

PURITY TO BE SYNDICATED.

First Work of Proposed "Betterment World League" Is to Put "Lid" on in Chicago.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, June 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Civic purity in the nation, and especially in Chicago, is to be cornered, assimilated and converted into a trust. Dr. Gustafson, termed at the Buffalo reform convention the "Chicago giant," is at the head of the work. All the reform organizations in Chicago are to be merged and a crusade, started on a gigantic scale.

One of the objects of the big purity organization will be to enforce Sunday closing in Chicago, something the city has not seen for thirty years. The merger, as planned at Buffalo, is to embrace the nation, but the object is first to get it in operation in Chicago.

It is to be known as the "Betterment World League."

SCHOOLS FOR CANAL ZONE.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Twenty-three public schools with an attendance of 1,100 pupils and with twenty-six teachers have been established in the canal zone by U. S. various municipalities under the direction of the canal zone government.

Five of the U. S. municipalities have adopted compulsory education laws and well attended schools are developing rapidly in a country that knew nothing of free schools before the establishment of the canal zone government.

WOMAN CENTENARIAN DEAD.

Mrs. Nancy Tigus Ends Long Life in the Hoosier State at the Age of 107.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LAFAYETTE (Ind.) June 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Nancy Tigus, the oldest woman in Indiana, died today at St. Anthony's Home at the age of 107 years. She was born in Ireland March 15, 1798.

She came to this country in 1830 and two years later married Thomas Tigus at New Albany.

She had nine children, only one of whom survives her.

SANTA MONICA BONDS POPULAR.

Big Blocks Offered in Boston Market Meet With Ready Sale at Fair Price.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BOSTON, June 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two big blocks of Santa Monica, Cal., bonds offered in the Boston market by E. H. Rollins & Sons, Boston bankers, are meeting with ready sale and are being well picked up.

The issues are $2,500 of municipal improvement bonds, maturing in 1908-1909, and $40,000 school district bonds, maturing next November to 1915.

The former sell at prices to net 4.1 per cent. income after accrued interest, the latter to net 4 per cent.

GUATEMALAN PORTS FORTIFIED.

MEXICO CITY, June 24.—Several travelers from Salvador arrived here last night. They report that the Guatemalan ports of Champerico and San Jose are well fortified and provided with the best artillery. They state that the revolution is by no means ended and that the revolutionary leaders are popular in Guatemala, where the people demand radical changes.

NORWAY'S MONARCH GREET'S FOREIGNERS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

TRONDHJEM, June 24.—The plans for receiving the Norwegian-American delegations having been changed, King Haakon and Queen Maud received the several delegations combined at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon. The entire court was present.

The pilgrims from the United States spent twenty-five minutes with the King and Queen. Dr. Dana of Chicago first read an address congratulating King Haakon on his accession to the throne and expressing assurances of the affection of Norwegians in America for Norway.

King Haakon thanked the delegation, saying he was fully aware of the value to Norway of the moral support of Norwegians in America and that it helped him when entering upon the duties of his office to know that he had their friendship. He also expressed his gratification for the kindly sentiment of Americans.

KING RECEIVES PORTFOLIO.

F. G. Gade, Norway's vice-consul at Chicago, then presented King Haakon with a portfolio, saying that this greeting also was from America, and particularly from Norwegian musicians and artists there. He reminded the King that the portfolio contained a poem written by the Rev. Mr. Dothner and set to music by Alfred Paulson, which was sung at the demonstration last night.

Mr. Gade then presented Odin Renner of Milwaukee, composer of the coronation hymn, which also was embodied in the portfolio. King Haakon shook hands with Mr. Renner and thanked him for his work.

In reply to Mr. Gade the King expressed his warmest thanks for the portfolio and charged him to deliver a message of regard to all who assisted in preparing or contributing to it. The King and Queen then shook hands with the entire party and thanked the members for making the long journey from the United States to assist in the coronation.

PARADE OF YOUNG POLICE.

Thousands of school children paraded before the palace at noon today and were received by King Haakon, Queen Maud and Crown Prince Olaf.

King Haakon, addressing the people, expressed the appreciation of himself, his wife and his son and commended his son to them.

He trusted that he and the people always would enjoy mutual confidence and work together in the future for the good of Norway. He led the children in cheering for Norway and Diamond Head at 7:31 o'clock last night. The sailing time from San Pedro was twelve days and five hours.

The last the Lurline saw of the Anemone was on the day of the start, fifteen miles ahead, the Anemone having caught the breeze first while the Lurline was becalmed. The Lurline made 145 miles the first day, 263 the second, and averaged 201 daily up to yesterday noon.

On the day that the steamer Mariposa sighted the Paloma 688 miles from San Francisco, the Lurline was over a thousand miles, therefore it is believed here that the La Paloma is considerably behind.

Large crowds are gathered on the wharves, many awaiting news of the other yachts.

GREAT WORK OF LURLINE.

LOS ANGELES TO THE FORE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

Lurline in a canter. Property briefed, that is the song of triumph that comes along the cables from the distant islands of the Pacific. It means another satisfactory hot for the young and lusty city of Los Angeles. It means that the yachting of this western coast has taken its place in the annals of a great international sport.

Lurline got the gun at Diamond Head, Honolulu, at 21 minutes past 7 o'clock on Saturday evening, June 23; thus having made handsome speed from start to finish in the first great race of the Pacific Coast. Her sailing time from the start at San Pedro, at 12 o'clock on June 11, was 13 days and 5 hours.

The time within which the schooner La Paloma could arrive so as to give her the race and the agreed handicaps allowance ended at 21 minutes past 13 (noon) Sunday. According to this, the Lurline had to give La Paloma one-half hour for every foot of difference in the racing "length," and the racing length of all the boats was very simply calculated. It was the water-line length plus half the length of the overhangs.

MANY HOURS ALLOWED.

Under the Lurline allowed La Paloma seventeen hours; so that McFarlane's little two-sticker had all Saturday night and all Sunday till a half hour after midday to come in and lift the cup.

But the chance of this was seen to be very remote when Commodore Sinclair told his story and a comparison was made with what we knew in Los Angeles. This aid to a good guess was supplied by the steamer Mariposa, which reported a vessel that was recognized as La Paloma. The small schooner thus described was at that

He said he had an altercation with a man named larger than himself at the corner of Temple street and Broadway and sustained the injuries in the fight.

Their First Ball.

The first annual ball of the Young Men's Institute of the Cathedral will take place this evening at the Women's Club House. Elaborate preparations have been made to make of the affair one of the social successes of the season. A sufficient number of tickets have been issued to insure a large attendance. Dancing will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

East Side Burglaries.

The home of Mrs. M. E. Jones, No. 66 South Daly street, was burglarized some time late Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The intruder carrying away with him a fine lady's watch with a long neck chain, of the aggressive value of $150. Two other houses were entered the same night, one at No. 2717 Darwin avenue, and the other at No. 2702 Mosart street. The police believe that the same man broke into all three houses, but in the two latter cases he was frightened away before he had had time to find anything of value.

Funeral of Mrs. Peschke.

The funeral of Mrs. Amelia Peschke was held yesterday afternoon from her former home at No. 533 Macy street. Rev. Scholz officiated at the house, and also at the grave in Rosedale cemetery. The services at the house were conducted in German, and at the grave both German and English were used. Many beautiful floral offerings were received, one especially handsome one being sent by the Native Sons. The Pioneer Society attended in a body. The pallbearers were J. W. Paynter, Harry A. WOMAN'S SONG SAVES LIVES.

WIFE OF MISSIONARY SOOTHES HEAD HUNTERS.

Warriors Seek Peaceful Sleep Instead of Their White Hosts' Heads. Mr. Hoover Tells of Life Among Dyaks of Borneo at First Methodist Church Last Night.

Thrilling experiences of seven years spent among the Dyaks, the head hunters and the Chinese on the island of Borneo, were told of last night at the First Methodist Church by J. M. Hoover, a missionary who has just returned from the interior of the strange land. The missionary and his wife have carried the gospel into the interior of the island, have met the horrible head hunters in their homes, have dined with them, preached to them, and lived among them. They are the only white couple who have ever succeeded in reaching the blood-thirsty butchers whose chief aim in life is to secure as many heads as possible.

Horror which exist on the island were told of last night by the missionary, who asserted that the government there is powerless to stop the practices of the natives. The speaker declared that the truth about the Dyaks of the savages has never been told, the most revolting details being the practice of cannibalism. According to the speaker, the Dyaks are comparatively few of his subjects under his control, and a careful estimate places the number of head hunters at 15,000. This is said to be a very large number of people and children wherever chance offers.

Through the missionary and his wife have been compelled to witness the revolting orgies of the head hunters and have lived, the greater part of the time, far from civilization, both are healthy and well, have suffered little inconvenience and have been treated fairly well by the savages. Mrs. Hoover speaks the Dyak language and some last night in Malay, Chinese and in two of the dialects spoken by the tribes on the island.

STORY OF SAVAGE LIFE.

Speaking in a conversational tone and telling in a simple way the terrible story of the life of the men of Borneo, Mr. Hoover entertained the throng which crowded the church last night. He spoke for more than an hour of the habits, conditions of life, and of the superstitions, beliefs of the poor ignorant savages. In part Mr. Hoover said:

"Though you have read much about the terrible climate of Borneo, my wife and I have lived in the jungles of the island where it is said white people cannot exist and we have never been sick a day of all the seven years. We have lived among the natives trading rice, pigs and chickens for corn, and the difficulty has always been to obtain money. The people are forced to barter because there is no money to be had. We can't get cash so I have come here to get what we can't obtain there. We must have rice mill and I'm going home to get one."

"I would like to take a moneyed man to Borneo and show him how the people live. He would get a whole dollar at one time loans almost every cent of it and in turn become a borrower. He would be forced to barter because there is no money to be had. We can't get cash so I have come here to get what we can't obtain there. We must have rice mill and I'm going home to get one."

BAD HEAD HUNTERS.

"The head hunter is worse than you hear he is. He takes heads whenever and wherever he can get them. A man cannot marry until he has secured at least one head, and the fellow who gets the most heads becomes chief. Each head hunter is thought to represent a servant for the other world. They have a superstition that a white head will make a poor servant, and I have not tried to change their minds. The missionary has light hair."

The speaker told in interesting detail of the great houses built by the natives, who are said to live in dread of one of the other, fearing to lose their heads. Continuing, Mr. Hoover said:

"The head hunter is made to believe that a child's head is the most worthy prize, for to obtain such he must enter the house of his victim as the children seldom come out of doors. Next he tries to believe that a woman's head is most to be valued because a woman never goes unattended. From cover he sneaks upon his victim, or 'steals' the house when the men are absent, and takes his gory prize. The heads are brought home to the village and given to the women who string the fearful trophy around their necks and hold a dance."

The missionary told of a young man who had taken a wife from a neighboring village. The bridegroom with a party of men, held a feast in the village, and at night the men arose and took eleven heads of the villagers with whom they had been making merry.

He spoke of a visit paid by an old chief and seventy warriors to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover. The savages slept in the little house and before retiring held their head dance. Mrs. Hoover played and sang to the men and the music charmed them to sleep and a horrible danger was averted.

While in this city Mr. and Mrs. Hoover are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fisher of No. 3043 Wilshire boulevard. On Tuesday night a reception will be held in their honor at Mr. Fisher's home. After a few days spent in Los Angeles the missionaries will go to their old home in Pennsylvania where they will spend a year.

An immense audience crowded the great auditorium of the First Methodist Church yesterday morning when Dr. Robert McIntyre delivered the opening sermon to the graduating class of the State Normal school. The students of the Normal school, in the body of the house were reserved for the graduation and faculty. The class numbers 160 and as the organ began the opening prelude they marched down the main aisle to the seats reserved for them.

The choir, under the leadership of Harry Barnhart rendered its chorale selections opening with that magnificent anthem "The Heavens are Telling." Later on Mr. Barnhart sang "Open the Gates of the Temple." Scores of people stood through the masterly address of Dr. McIntyre who spoke from the text found in the scriptures "Whosoever saith unto you, do it."

—before plunging into the heart of his sermon, Dr. McIntyre congratulated the class and congratulated the curriculum of studies as laid down in the normal course of training and spoke in the most appreciative way of the calling of the teacher which represents one of the oldest and most honorable of professions involving a constant sacrifice for the good of others.

The language of the mother of Jesus as quoted in the text showed her entire confidence in her Son. No one knows the child as well as the mother and not even the disciples of Jesus knew Him as well as did His mother. It was at the marriage at Cana in Galilee that these words were spoken "Whatsoever He saith unto you, do it." It is obedience which brings the blessing. It is obedience practical and timely comparison he brought out the idea that the work of the teacher consists largely in turning the commonplace things of life into the realm of blessing and knowledge. He pointed a moral from the present age of graft and grab when big corporations do not care for the people but only for money. He pointed to the future in order that they may profit and told anecdotes to illustrate and emphasize the blessings brought by absolute honor and obedience to right principles and a high moral standard.

CADETS DESIRE DRILL FIELD.

FREMONT CORPS ASKS FOR LARGER GROUNDS.

Seeks Permission to Use Custer-Street School Yard—Boys Now Have New Khaki Uniforms, Presented by Los Angeles Merchants. Other Gifts to Cadets.

The Fremont Cadets are hard at work getting the school of the company "down fine," and now they are appealing to the Board of Education for a better place than the streets to drill in. Dr. Scott, who has fathered the corps, has written to the board, and it will take action on the application tonight.

The drills have been carried on in the streets since the organization, but it calls an undesirable element into the neighborhood, and makes some discord. It has now come to a point where the boys must have a place to drill unmolested.

The Custer-street school grounds are suitable for the purpose, and the corps wants permission to use them between 8:30 and 9 o'clock p.m. They would also appreciate permission to keep others out during the drill, but the use of the grounds is the principal thing.

All the boys now have khaki uniforms. Through the generosity of Hamburgers, the Broadway Department Store, Cohn & Goldwater, and Brownstein, Newman & Lewis, the cadets who could not afford uniforms have been provided for, and now they all present a fine appearance.

A new flag has been given them also. Besides having the stars and stripes the color guard now marches proudly under a blue banner, the corps flag. It was made and presented to the corps by two girl admirers—Minnie Gosnell and Olive Kirby. They are not alone in their admiration for the rest of the girls don't make flags to show in their admiration for the corps. They are all over the place, and the doesn't miss much.

The next competitive drill will be held next month, and Dr. Scott has put out a watch for the lucky young soldier who can prove his merit.

The boys are all looking forward to the coming Monday, when they will go to Long Beach in a special car. That date is the first upon which the car could be secured after school let out. They will have the time of their life. Fish dinners are beginning to take form in their dreams.

The opposition to the corps has practically disappeared now that the good effects of it are seen. The boys are all right, but they need some way to work out their surplus energy, and the Detention Home is a poor place.

out in the ninth to the Hamburgers. In the second game the Keystone found that the Tufts-Lyons were too strong for them, and expired without getting a man nearer than third, and only one of them.

Both games were real ball, and although a few of the boys found a bunch of muck in their gloves, sloppy plays were quite absent. The Tufts-Lyons showed up a clean sheet in the error column, and the others didn't spend much time booting the ball.

Abe Attell was scheduled to guess at the curves, but he failed to put in an appearance. Bradley did the work in the first game, and he was all right, although some of the fans didn't appreciate his decisions on the batter. Duprez had his eye in trim for the second game, and came through without a murmur.

In the first game, the Flagg were the first to strike the trail, and incidentally they got over the only earned run of the afternoon.

Colbath, the first man up in the second, slammed out a double and a moment later came galloping in on Wilkerson's double. In their part of the third, the Flagg came back, Mangerina getting over on his single, a fielder's choice and a single by Nicolls. The Flagg pulled in another in the fifth, Goodman poking the ball to the fence for a triple, scoring later on play. The Flagg came along, and made even in the seventh, McDonald crossing the plate.

BUMPTY-BUMP.
The fans began to settle themselves for extra innings, and everything was lovely for a pitcher's battle. By the end of the eighth both teams had a runner on base, and the game was looking for more. Such was not to be. Somebody slipped an idea to the Flagg. They couldn't be sure of sending the ball away safely, but they could get their bats in the way of it. Inspiration!

Wilson, first up, poked a funny kind of Texas leaguer over between short and third, that no one could impound. Hartman dumped a mean little bouncer to the pitcher, which jumped away from him and both were safe. Harries tried the same game, but only got a sacrifice, although he came near making the bases full.

With man on second and third, Mangerina dumped a little one in front of the plate where the other two had gone. Wilson had a lead, and scored on the play, crashing into Snodgrass, who was trying to pick the ball out of the pitcher's hands in time for a throw. Mangerina was safe, with Hartman on third, and Mangerina scored on the throw, although it was cleanly handled and returned.

The opposition tried hard to frame up a tie, and they had a quiver of hope when Goodman got first on a pop that went over the pitcher's head, and then a back swing that rolled toward the plate. Snodgrass forced him, however, and Adams finished the work with high fly to second.

LOWLY "ONE" WINS.
The second game was faster ball, with a good deal of the one-two-three performance by the Keystone. The Tufts-Lyons made no errors, and the Keystone found Andrade for only two hits, so that there wasn't much doing along the base line for them. If Andrade hadn't hit two men and passed two, there would have been a tie and death of action. As it was, the Keystone made six appearances in the playlet entitled, "Only Three from the Pitcher," and the Tufts obliged by doing the same turn twice.

The Tufts boys got the single solitary tally that was enough to win in the second session. Jensen was first up, and he nearly spread-eagled Bieger with a bingle that went through the box over second as it on business. He stole second very nicely. Then Leahy made a pretty dump down in the dust by the plate, advancing Jensen to third, while he was thrown out at first by a narrow margin. Little Briseno then came up, and put all the know into a whopper that threw up the Hitts just on the third-base line. It went for two bags without question, and Jensen came home eased up.

Nothing more happened in the run line. Tufts lost a chance to score in the fifth, when Andrade cracked out a single, being first man up. He was sent down on the first ball, and was hustled by miles. A little less haste to score might have earned another tally, as the next man drew four balls, and Hamus put out a swift one that went as a force to second. They flickered again in the ninth, but a strike-out stopped the effort.

BASEBALL AT RIVERA.
A small crowd witnessed the game between the Examiner and Rivera. The Examiner won in the eighth, 2 to 1. The features of the game were the fielding of Barry, Pedrotti and Lamer of the Examiner, and of Judson and Broadbent of the Rivera. The Examiner batteries were Fitzwilliams and Mangerina, and the Rivera batteries Briggswalter and Andy Broadbent. The game was played in 1 hour and 25 minutes. Umpire, Faulkner. The score stood 2 to 1, in favor of the Examiner.

SOCIETY AGAPE AT ELOPEMENT.

SON OF JOHN B. STETSON RUNS AWAY WITH BEAUTY.

Marries Daughter of Manager of Welder's Stock Farm and Keeps Wedding Secret Several Days. Bride Telegraphed: "We're Married! Expect Us When You See Us."

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The romantic elopement of George H. Stetson, son of John H. Stetson, and Miss Helen G. Lewis, daughter of the manager of the Welder's stock farm, and a noted beauty and horse woman, and their subsequent marriage in New York Friday, is the social sensation of the hour in Ogontz.

The news of the young couple's action has just gained publicity. There were no parental objections to the union, excepting that it was the wish of both families to have the marriage delayed until the lovers reached a more mature age.

Cupid's machine rendered this of no avail. The young couple met Friday afternoon, went to New York, married and telegraphed the news home.

Mr. Lewis read the telegram and without a word handed it to his wife, who was chatting with a visitor. It read: "We are married. Expect us when you see us."

The groom is actively engaged in the affairs of the Stetson hat manufacturing concern. Under his father's will he has an ample allowance which will be increased because of the marriage.

MOTORMAN AND CONDUCTORS OF ALLEN TOWN QUIT WORK.

Entire Police Force Ordered Out to Quell Riots—Disturbances Along Tracks—Trolley Ropes Cut and Cars Stopped by Unionist Sympathizers.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
ALLEN TOWN (Pa.) June 24.—A strike of motorman and conductors of the Lehigh Valley Transit Company today led to disturbances that resulted in the mayor ordering out the entire police force. Tonight a crowd of 3000 persons gathered at the transfer point, Sixth and Hamilton streets, and began interfering with the running of cars.

Trolley ropes were cut, cars were stopped and the crews greeted with jeers. Nearly every car was then run into the barn. Along the lines crowds gathered, hooting, and in a few instances stones were thrown.

The strikers demand the recognition of their union and the reinstatement of fifteen men who, it is said, were discharged for belonging to the organization.

"DIAMOND FLAT" LAND SOLD.
Fifteen Thousand Dollars Paid for a Tract Near Monrovia Where Hotel May Be Built.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)
MONROVIA, June 24.—Henry Kirchenschlager purchased yesterday of John Thomas the foothill plateau, known as "Diamond Flat," for $15,000. The tract consists of about forty acres, unimproved, lying at an elevation of 1100 feet. The land has long been regarded as one of the most prepossessing tourist hotel sites in Southern California.

From the tract can be seen the city of Monrovia with its many homes and orange groves, and the entire sweep of the San Gabriel Valley. The site compares favorably with that of the famous Raymond Hotel at Pasadena.

Mr. Kirchenschlager is acquiring the tract with its many oak trees will be cleared of brush for the use of picnic. The property is reached by three well-graded roads.

SAILOR STABS CAPTAIN.
PORT TOWNSEND, June 24.—As the schooner William Nottingham, laden with spars for New York, was preparing to go to sea early today, Capt. Angus Keegan was set upon by an intoxicated sailor named John Carroll, who stabbed him in the back seven times.

Capt. Keegan was taken to the hospital in a serious condition. Carroll was arrested and is in jail awaiting the outcome of the captain's injuries.

CHRISMAN TRACT and CHAMBERS TRACT

Subdivision of the Straw- berry Park Tract.

ONE-HALF-ACRE LOTS.

We have a proposition to sell that will interest you and pay you to investigate. The lots are in the famous Gardens district and right in the line of growth between the two great centers of trade. The lots are a short distance from two car lines, the Redondo and San Pedro car lines. Good lots for homes. Plenty of water and good soil. This is at the rate of $500 to $600 per acre, and large acreages without water have sold in this vicinity for $400 per acre. A good buy at the company's price.

BIG PACKING PLANT CLOSES.

Cudahy's Louisville Branch Suspends on Account of Criticism by Newspapers.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

LOUISVILLE, June 24.—The Louisville Packing Company, said to be the largest plant owned by the Cudahy Packing Company of Chicago, was closed down indefinitely last night. The company was established in 1892, employed about 250 men and had an output of 18,000 sheep, 20,000 cattle and 300,000 hogs.

W. W. Mason, manager of the concern, received orders to close down three days ago and gave as a reason for the order: "Newspaper criticism and adverse legislation."

THE SOUTHWEST.

BUSINESS blocks are springing up along Washington street, which is fast becoming a center of trade. Property fronting on this main artery of the southwest is held at a high figure and many are waiting for higher prices, which they believe must come because of the tendency to erect substantial structures. Laws have been laid out in the new subdivision of Roseville Cemetery on the north side. Several acres of burial ground has been afforded by the laying out of the large tract which adjoins the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company's tracks. There is no disposition on the part of the Rose-celebrated his seventieth birthday. The "Harvesters," the faithful band who aid Mr. Murphy at his Sunday evening meetings, were recently entertained with a typical "at home" when Mr. and Mrs. Murphy were host and hostess. The house was built at a cost of approximately $3000. Mrs. G. B. French has returned to her home in Salem, O. Mrs. French has been a guest at the home of Dr. E. O. Sawyer, No. 2211 King street, for some time. Mr. and Mrs. C. Smith and daughter, Grace, are visiting in Santa Ana, the guests of Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Lee. dale Cemetery Company to lay out lots the other side of the track, at least for the present, as the new ground gives ample room for some time to come. Miss Anna Josephine Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harris, was married at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night to Paul J. Lindley of San Diego. Monday evening when performed by Dr. Robert McIntyre at the family home, No. 2214 Ocean View avenue, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The elaborate bride's gown was of white. The bride's sponsor was her father, Master Walter Rapp was ring-bearer. The couple will make their home in San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Will A. Kistler entertained in honor of the tenth anniversary of their wedding with a tin shower on Thursday evening at their home, No. 1429 Van Ness avenue. An interesting program of entertainment was rendered. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Dismann, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Van Vlack, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Kistler, Mr. and Mrs. George Rawick, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. T. Bena, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Catell, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Papp, Mr. and Mrs. B. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kistler, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Good, Mr. and Mrs. W. McReynolds, Mrs. J. T. Chambers, Mrs. L. M. Haves, Mrs. K. A. Wiley, Messrs. Paul McReynolds, Roy Broadlove, Carl Broadlove, Howard Chambers, Leslie L. Leavitt, Fred Leavitt, Misses Lillian Broadlove, Grace Broadlove, Mah Broadlove, Mildred Kistler, Inez Chapman, Helen Wiley, Amy Brown and Edna Haves. Many handsome and useful presents were received.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Enright, of No. 1123 South 11th street, Monday evening, when Miss May Enright became the bride of Charles Marsh. Garlands of white ribbon and similar were draped from the corners of the room to the chandeliers. In one corner ferns were banded to form a bower, and white doves were suspended above the couple. The bride was gowned in white and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and maidenhair ferns. Rev. John Schaeffle performed the ceremony; the bride's sister, Miss Ellie Enright, was maid of honor; Stratford Enright was best man; Little Adrienne Enright, the bride's niece, acted as ring bearer, carrying the ring in a white lily. After the ceremony refreshments were served.

UNION SQUARE.

Rev. Alfred H. Inwood, pastor of the Boyle Heights Methodist Church, occupied the pulpit of the St. James Methodist Church yesterday morning and preached a forceful sermon, his topic being "The Christian's Duty." Rev. Robert S. Fisher, the regular pastor, preached the morning sermon in the Boyle Heights Methodist Church. Mrs. E. E. Parat of No. 124 West Twentieth street entertained members of the Chatterbox Whist Club Tuesday afternoon. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. T. H. Morgan and Mrs. W. Saunders.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Audrey Davidson of Eshard street have left for a three months' trip through the East, visiting New York, Washington and Chicago. Miss Elma E. Annas of Syracuse, N. Y., a sister of Mrs. H. Z. Osborn of this city, has purchased the W. H. Burke homestead, No. 412 West Twentieth street, and will make it her residence. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Annas, of London, N. Y., will make their home with her. Miss Lillian Montague of No. 1929 Oxford avenue entertained informally Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Alice Cherry of Chicago. Five hundred was the game played, and the winning contestants received appropriate prizes. The guests included Mrs. W. T. Snyder, Frank Simmons, Misses Eula Smith, Reba Smith, Edith Osborn, Kate Ramsdel, of Portland, Terba Avery, Germa Van der Voort, Irene Buell, Carrie Lenz, Frances Thompson, Maud Martin, Ethel Wilson, Clara Condee, Italia Bower, Mrs. Jennie Perry of Napa, Maud Merryweather, Lou Ward, Mildred Hadley, Maud Tanner and Mary Widney. One of the enjoyable affairs of the week was the party with which John F. Hays of No. 717 West Twentieth street entertained Friday evening. Music, games and dancing were enjoyed, after which refreshments were served. Dr. Nellie S. Hays, sister of the host, assisted in entertaining.

PICO HEIGHTS.

A pretty wedding took place in the Congregational parsonage, Saturday, at noon, when Miss Myrtle Hitchcock was married to Walter Starr. Rev. J. M. Schaeffle performed the ceremony. Mrs. M. V. Huff of No. 1424 Vermont avenue is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. P. Higgins, in San Gabriel.

Rev. James M. Schaeffle preached yesterday morning at the Congregational Church. His subject was "Fellowship With God." In the evening the Christian Endeavor had charge of the services and installation of officers took place. The officers are: Mrs. Ida Osmond, president; Miss Bessie Judson, secretary; L. Hill, treasurer, and Miss Juanita Norton, corresponding secretary.

William Kadis and bride returned Friday from their wedding tour in the East and are at home to their friends at No. 1160 Pedra street.

UNIVERSITY.

One of the most enjoyable of the events of the commencement week of the University of Southern California was the annual banquet of the Entre Nous society which was held at the Hotel Pepper on Friday evening. Miss Helen Hosce acted as toastmistress, and toasts were given by Misses Bertha Green, Helen Munsey, Edith Hogan, Genevieve Buchanan and Eleanor Cory.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the university will endeavor to provide a large banquet room. Plans are yet not complete, but in general the ladies propose to fit up the basement of the hall capable of seating 1000 persons. The summer session of the university opens today and a successful term is expected. Courses will be offered in twenty-six departments.

THE NORTHWEST.

Several building propositions have been offered the members of the Union Avenue Methodist Church, but there is reason to believe the church, which is to be erected in the near future, will adorn the property adjoining the site of the present structure. An offer of a site on the hills near Sunset boulevard was made and almost accepted by the church. This would have meant a union with the congregation recently organized by Rev. Borklin. The Union Avenue Church, which has grown since the appointment of Rev. White to the pastorate, has not sufficient room in the present quarters. Picnic parties thronged Echo Park on Sunday and took advantage of the fine boating offered on the lake. The water was ever clearer nor the park prettier than now.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Crossley of No. 230 South Alvarado street sailed from New York on the Oceanic Wednesday for Europe. They were accompanied by Mrs. Crossley's sister, Miss Helen M. Collins, and Gilbert H. Crossley.

BOYLE HEIGHTS.

Tuesday evening the Young Bachelors' Club of Boyle Heights enjoyed a farewell banquet in honor of one of the retiring members, B. C. Pettierew, whose marriage to Miss Mae Boughton will be celebrated Thursday. The affair was an entire surprise to Mr. Pettierew, who was invited to the home of William Wiggins, No. 2515 Michigan avenue, where the rest of the club had gathered. Dr. Lehman Lowder, who was invited to the toastmaster and toasts to the "Young Bachelors," the "Old Bachelors," the groom and the bride-to-be were well received, after which the president added another surprise by presenting Mr. Pettierew with a handsome Morris chair, the gift of the club.

DR. TALMAGE'S BEHEAVEMENT. Communal service only was held at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday. Rev. Frank DeWitt Talmage announcing that but for the fact that he regarded the service as the best secured of all church ceremonies, he would not have been in his pulpit at all. On Saturday Dr. Talmage received a telegram from the East announcing the death of his only unmarried sister. He had made all arrangements for her to come to Los Angeles in the fall and make her home with him. Her health had not been good, but her death was unexpected. It was on account of this bereavement of the pastor that the regular services at the church were dispensed with.

day-school have become an interesting feature - each year, and the festival of song given by the scholars was much enjoyed by the throng which filled the auditorium of the church.

The school has made great progress during the past two years. Charles W. Brown is superintendent and Mrs. Lee-Puller is head of the primary department.

There are now enrolled over 1000 scholars, 230 being classified in the primary department of the school. Rapid growth marks not only the numerical side of the school, but also its scholarship. An indication of the good work accomplished was shown in yesterday's exercises by the remarkable exhibition of Bible study, and by the perusal of the church membership books, which show that over one-half of the increase in church membership during the past year, on the profession of faith, came from the Sunday-school.

The entire middle section of the large auditorium was reserved for the Sunday-school yesterday. The ceremonies took the place of the regular preaching service. The big folks packed the space around the sides and filled the gallery in the Sunday-school room. A sheet of soft ferns and pepper bushes completely hid the choir loft and a pillow of bright red carnations upon which the letters "R. C." also formed of red carnations, rested in the center, presenting a striking appearance. The entire service was impressive.

The feature of the programme was the graduating exercises. The children were subjected to an exhaustive examination in the study of the Bible, and acquitted themselves in a remarkable manner. The class of twenty-four graduates is thoroughly organized and is known as the "Royal Circle." After a selection by the Sunday-school orchestra and the invocation by Dr. Cox, the graduating class marched to the platform. Each bore a pretty garland of red and green ribbons, the class colors, and the little girls, gowned in simple white dresses, and their happy faces beaming with joy, presented a scene not soon forgotten. About 100 questions were put to each class and the responses were read in unison and in perfect rhythm. This is the most remarkable when it is known that the questions were designed to test the graduates' knowledge of the whole Bible, and single questions included the recitation of the Twenty-third Psalm, the Ten Commandments and the Beatitudes.

As a token of the children's high regard and love, two beautiful floral tributes were presented to Miss Vedette Tolchard and Miss Bertha Ford, teachers in the primary department. At the close of the exercises the members of the primary class were presented with handsome Oxford Bibles and diplomas showing their standing. Dr. Cox made a brief address to the congregation in which he gave expression to the sentiment in the motto, "Thy word have I hid in my heart that I might not sin against Thee." The speaker urged the youthful graduates not to keep the Bible on the book shelf or the parlor table, but in the heart.

Following the presentation, the whole primary school gave a varied programme which included a song, "Like the Birds and the Blossoms," recitation, "Her Friend," Loretta Kennell; motion song, "Sunbeams," six little girls; recitation, Dorothy Alexander; solo with flute obbligato, "Gentle Jesus," Marie Stanley; recitation, "What Little Ones Can Do," Clara Pierce; offertory, "The Holy City," orchestra. The graduates are Alice Prince, Anna Kollan, Edith Aldrich, Esther Couch, Ella Turner, Irene Kincaid, Susie Taylor, Marguerite Denmore, Verda Bridgford, Velma Dowds, Esther Nelson, Mary Riley, Verle George, Gladys Baker, Ruth Magnusson, Wayne Whitlington, Charles Krepps, Milton W. Coe, Bruce Spencer, Lyle Adams, Leslie Crandall, Thomas Kollan, Ralph Hyatt and Roy Burak.

Consumption Can Be Cured

The Preston antitoxine treatment for Tuberculosis, is the only reasonable method. Who would think of using drugs in a case of Diphtheria in this intelligent age of medicine? This antitoxine for Consumption is equally as effective as that for Diphtheria. Patients secured improvement in from 5 to 10 days, and they continue to improve day by day until cured. If you have consumption at all, don't delay. Your cure may be too far advanced to be cured now. Come and be examined at once, while there is still a chance for you. L. F. PRESTON, M. GENERAL AGENT J. H. LENEHAN OF THE PHENIX INSURANCE COMPANY OF BROOKLYN, N. Y., HAS SENT THE FOLLOWING LETTER TO HIS AGENTS ON THE PACIFIC COAST, CLEARLY SETTING FORTH THE POSITION OF THE COMPANY, WHICH WILL BE OF INTEREST TO THE PUBLIC:

J. H. LENEHAN,
General Agent.

A. C. OLDS,
State Agent for Pacific Coast.

PHENIX INSURANCE COMPANY

OF BROOKLYN, N. Y.

WESTERN AND SOUTHERN DEPARTMENT
CHICAGO

TO OUR AGENTS:

OAKLAND, CAL., June 21, 1906.

A serious misunderstanding has arisen regarding the attitude of a number of the companies interested in the San Francisco losses, and I deem it advisable to inform you as to the position occupied by many of them, and particularly as to that of the Phenix.

The terrible earthquake of April 18, which wrecked and damaged innumerable buildings and their contents, destroyed the water mains of the city and rendered useless the theretofore effective Fire Department, was followed by a conflagration unparalleled as to area and property values involved.

The Company's policies do not cover loss or damage by earthquake and the injection of this new element into the question, as fire followed and completed the destruction, has raised an issue not easily disposed of. Where policies covered buildings and or their contents which had certainly fallen before the fire, or which had been so damaged as to void the insurance, claims under such policies cannot be recognized.

Where the damage by earthquake was not of sufficient magnitude to render the insurance void, or where buildings and or the contents were destroyed by civil and or military authority before the fire, or where books and records were destroyed so that it is impossible to supply the proofs of value required under the contract and for other good reasons it seemed right and just that if settlements were had under policies not absolutely void a reasonable deduction should be made from the face of the policies. Many companies expressed a willingness to dispose of such claims by immediate settlements for cash, after deducting twenty-five per cent. from the policy if the same were generally adopted. It is needless to say that such settlement was not obligatory on the assured; he could elect to avail himself of it or await an adjustment which naturally would be long and tedious because of the many complications arising from the difficulty of separating losses for which companies were liable from those exempted in the policy records, both by the companies and the assured.

The proposition appealed to many business men and bankers, who saw in it the means for prompt disposal of these claims on a cash basis and which meant much to the policy holders in San Francisco. This tentative plan, however, did not meet with the approval of some companies, several of whom saw in its opposition an opportunity to secure a certain amount of advertising, and nothing has been left undone in that direction. I believe this plan offered needed relief to a stricken community, and if generally adopted would have provided the funds for immediate restoration of much of the property destroyed. It apparently has not secured sufficient indorsement to render it effective, and the Phenix will proceed in the adjustment of its own losses, giving to each the careful investigation made imperative by reason of the presence of a new and extraordinary condition, and necessarily calling for closest scrutiny. We owe this to the Company and its stockholders, as well as policy holders everywhere; to you and your patrons who are depending on having reliable insurance for protection against legitimate loss, and to the business world, but the Phenix will carry out the original proposition and pay at once in cash any claim for which it is legally liable on the basis of a reasonable compromise, if desired, to avoid the delay incident to adjustment on account of complications involved.

The Phenix Insurance Company needs no champion to defend its name before the people of this country. Its record of fifty-three years' operations and honorable discharge of obligations in all of the great conflagrations since its organization will be fully maintained. It will be found in this instance as heretofore—fair and upright in its dealings with claimants, and prompt and thorough in meeting its legitimate liability; a position which will commend it as it has in the past to the consideration of honorable men.

Yours very truly,

J. H. LENEHAN, General Agent.

WHITE WINGS FLY IN RACE.

New Sloop Skidoo Surprises
All by Fast Journey.

Start from Breakwater.

Detroit, Monsoon, Mischief,
Katrina and Myth Speedy.

BY STINSON JARVIS.

On Walter Folson's announcement that a fine cup would be sailed for, the weather and waves, and almost every-thing that had feet, keels or wings, attending to make her stand up to the task, with the result that in the heat of the contest she handed the entire fleet.

SOURCE IS LONG ONE.
The regatta committee was a long one for the size of the harbor to a certain rock in the neighborhood of the isthmus, in the northern part of Catalina Island, a full-sized day's work to tackle.

As long as the wind conditions held, and for a long time after the start, the new racing sloop Skidoo, designed and built by C. H. Folson of Los Angeles, supplied the surprise of the day. Hitherto she was unable to find herself and would have told that Skidoo was among the dead men when she was up to be won. But for many a race she got enough ballast to keep her from being blown away, with the result that in the heat of the contest she handed the entire fleet.

JUDGES ARE GENTLEMEN.
Nobody was thrown overboard yesterday from the judge's steamer, and several ladies who ventured out with the so-called Caesars finally escaped the shore quite unhurt. In fact the whole affair seemed to be a picnic of good humor and to be enjoyed by the crews of yachts that were sailing in the distance.

Although the race was scheduled to start at 10 o'clock, sharp, there was a good swim if a total capsize really occurred. And it was here that Mischief II got her sheets aft and settled down to work for the beating of Detroit. There were many windward miles yet to be sailed before the Ship Rock could be sighted, and at this time the wind held no promise of getting better, and the chance of a calm later in the day seemed to be well among the possibilities.

SKIDOO HOLDS HER OWN.
In this neighborhood the judge's steamer got directly in the wake of both Skidoo and Monsoon while they were standing in for the lighthouse, and it was seen that the gardner boat was not pointing higher than Skidoo nor (at this point) catching her an inch. Skidoo was "on high," but after the first Mischief got the lead under the cliffs she seemed to have the legs of all of them on the next outward passage.

The next starboard tack promised to be a long one, for Catalina Island lay covered by a haze, so that the skipper could not see the dip in the distant cliffs where the lighthouse lies, consequently they all seemed determined to cross the twenty-mile channel on this tack and get within a sure knowledge of where their turning point lay.

FIRST MISCHIEF LEADS.
Here the first Mischief was given a good hard full and was driven for high speed. But whether she was lying her course for the Ship Rock could not be known from the judge's Evangeline which was then two miles to leeward.

It was certain, however, that the first Mischief left the Monsoon and Skidoo by a quarter of a mile in the first fifteen minutes of this outward passage. When seen at this time she was opening out a long lead while Skidoo and Monsoon were having a close fight for second place.

The lightning of the wind was favoring Monsoon, which is of the kind that does great work in the catpaw on Long Island Sound. When the Skidoo gets the canvas she needs she will make things warm for the other racers during the light breeze.

come aboard. He had Dodge steering the Detroit, but the boat was not in any of the classes in which prizes were offered.

As soon as all crossed the line, the Skidoo jumped for the windward berth, and got it. The first Mischief was being pinched very close and was gradually falling to the rear. Pugh's Monsoon showed a different method in her handling that was quite new in the history of the boat. She was being driven, and pace rather than for high pointing, and seemed to be going very fast, but evidently with indifferent results, as the Skidoo was able to cross her bows after her first tack.

THE KATRINA FIRST.
At 10:25 Detroit had caught up three or four minutes and was to leeward of the judge's boat, the Evangeline, an auxiliary yawl owned and commanded by Joseph Fellows. Here Katrina of class B was the first to go into the port tack toward the Point Firmin lighthouse, followed by Myth. Five minutes later Mischief went in the same direction, and it was highly instructive to see that she had to pass under the stern of the Wedgewood Skidoo.

Then Monsoon saw that there were advantages still to be gained under the big bluff to windward, and she came into the port tack. But alas and alas! the great Gardner design, from New York, was found to have been outfitted by a lowly craft that was designed and built in the back yard of a Los Angeles house carpenter. Everybody was too far off to cheer Wedgewood, so, though a little late, I put the cheer in print right heartily: for at that time of the day it seemed that Skidoo could be driven through anything, and that she was really built of wedge wood.

IN SHADOW OF CLIFFS.
Around went Monsoon to show Skidoo what she could do if she tried; but the yacht that resembles the Lake Ontario fishing boat (the fastest afloat) slid away on the port tack for the shadow of the great precipices. For in this mysterious region there is always magic in the green and weedy depths. Strong tidal currents run dead to windward along these cliffs where the sea-gull and the shag rest their young on the dizzy ledges. Here the Mischief, although hitherto beaten, got a lift up to first place, which was purely a gift of the genius loci; so that when they all met again Mischief's boat had the place of honor, and the big body of Fritz Whitney, placed well forward to keep the bow down, had a derivative foot waving in the air as the champion of last year showed her metal as of yore.

NORTHWESTERLY WIND.
All gained who used to favoring slants to be had in the region and, while big boats were plowing against a northwesterly wind in the outside waters, the little craft inshore could be seen heading due northwest on the inside slants. This put them in good company with the large boats when all met again in the outside waters.

Here the Mischief II, which had been sailing with her sheet started so close to the tip edge, as if to save from total capsize. Yet the racing machine was doing great sailing, and it was no handicap to have two tacks in her mainsail, for at this time she had all the sail she wanted.

But the day was too fine and the wind was too steady for accidents to be expected; while the lift of the channel seas had a blue delight in them that offered nothing but pleasure and a good swim if a total capsize really occurred. And it was here that Mischief II got her sheets aft and settled down to work for the beating of Detroit. There were many windward miles yet to be sailed before the Ship Rock could be sighted, and at this time the wind held no promise of getting better, and the chance of a calm later in the day seemed to be well among the possibilities.

SKIDOO HOLDS HER OWN.
In this neighborhood the judge's steamer got directly in the wake of both Skidoo and Monsoon while they were standing in for the lighthouse, and it was seen that the gardner boat was not pointing higher than Skidoo nor (at this point) catching her an inch. Skidoo was "on high," but after the first Mischief got the lead under the cliffs she seemed to have the legs of all of them on the next outward passage.

with a tack hammer. Yesterday's additional ballast made Skidoo sail like a different boat, and when she is supplied with proper sails the unquestionable speed of the model will be satisfactorily developed.

FIRST CRUISE CELEBRATED WITH BIG BLOWOUT.

Fleets Gradually Getting Shape for the Summer Sport—Golden Gate and Vallejo Clubs Turn Out Big Squad for First Race of the Season. Weekly Cruise on Programme.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—The Golden Gate and Vallejo Yacht clubs will both celebrate their opening of the season this week. The Sausalito tars have their new clubhouse in fine shape. The fleet of the California Yacht Club is gradually getting into shape. Commodore Vincent's flagship, Iola, has been in commission and following the programme since April 23, although no formal opening has taken place, and will most likely be eliminated this year.

The cruises so far have had light attendance, due to the catastrophe, but a good turnout is promised for the Montezuma trip over the Fourth of July, the next cruise of the Californians. The boats already in commission include the Iola, Alert, Gypsy, Francis, Secret, Sloop Spray, yawl Spray, Jessie K., Pilgrim and Comet.

The first scheduled event of the Golden Gate Yacht Club will be a cruise to Vallejo a week from Saturday night. The boats will be sailed to Napa Sunday morning, back to Vallejo Tuesday and home Wednesday.

David Abecassis's new sloop Yankee had her sailing qualities shown up to good advantage last week. Saturday the outboarded the Harpoon from Tiburon to Vallejo and on Sunday, with Dave Dean at the wheel, the Yankee, in a brush with the Presto, beat her. She also held her own against the Speedwell.

Fulton Berry cruised to Paradise and in the upper bay with the Nixie last Sunday. Port Capt. Jaeger of the Hawaiian Yacht Club was again on board. He left for Honolulu Wednesday on the Kona.

The flagship Curlew, ex-Commodore Will Morrow's speed craft Challenger, Martha, Chispa, Queen, Annie and Zoster were the San Francisco Club yachts that left Sausalito for short spins last week.

On account of light winds the California Yacht Club fleet put into California City last Saturday and abandoned the Petaluma trip Sunday a run was made outside.

BESSIE DOLLAR NOW AT PORT.

WITH MANY DOLLARS' WORTH OF ORIENT WARES.

Another of the Ocean Monarchs Arrives at San Pedro With Vast Cargo—Is Second of Great Line of Vessels Plying Between This Harbor and the Far East.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.
SAN PEDRO, June 24.—The steamship Bessie Dollar, one of the newest and largest of the celebrated Dollar line, is the latest of the big boats to arrive at San Pedro. She is discharging a large cargo from the Orient at the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad wharf.

The Bessie Dollar arrived Wednesday morning, commanded by Capt. Alexander Gow, twenty-one days out from Yokohama. She also called at Kobe, Hongkong, Nagasaki and other Chinese and Japanese ports.

Robert Dollar, president of the Dollar Steamship Company, accompanied by his wife and daughter, were passengers on the boat.

The cargo of the Bessie Dollar consists of 4000 tons of cement, consigned to various parties to order in care of the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company. The steamer also brought 500 tons of oriental merchandise, consisting of tea, capes, silks, kiki and other Japanese and Chinese goods.

The boat is the second of the line of vessels which are being placed on the run between this port and the Orient. The Hercules, which arrived last month, was the first of the line to come to this port. It is stated that other vessels of the same line will come at the rate of at least one a month.

The Bessie Dollar flies the British flag and is manned by a crew of forty-two Chinamen and fifteen Europeans. She is of 2750 registered tonnage, 335 feet long and draws 20.4 feet of water. She was built in Port Glasgow, Scotland, and her home port is Victoria, B. C.

A portion of her cargo is consigned to wholesalers at San Francisco, from which port she will proceed to Puget Sound to load a cargo of lumber for Shanghai.

W. E. Keely is inspector in charge of the cargo, assisted by inspectors Englehart, Badillo and Mahan.

Excellent progress is being made in discharging the giant steamer. Her stern winches whirl constantly, lifting the barrels and bales of cement and merchandise from both her forward and after holds. Her decks and the docks alongside bustle with activity.

She will be transferred Monday morning from the Salt Lake wharf to the docks of the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company, where she will finish discharging before proceeding north.

SORROW AMONG THE GRADUATES.

DEATH REMOVES ONE LOVED BY HUNDREDS OF PUPILS.

One Certificate of Graduation for the Tenth Street School Will Not Be Used—It Was Issued for a Dog That Had Faithfully Attended the School for Years.

There is sorrow in the Tenth-street school. Not one of the 400 pupils there but is in mourning today for the death of Rover, the big St. Bernard dog, the 150-pound brown beauty, the pet and playmate of every child in the school.

For more than four years Rover had been a steady attendant at the Tenth-street school. He was known by every member of the Board of Education, and was the pet and pride of the school. In all these years Rover had never missed a day or been tardy, except on two occasions—once when he had a sore foot, and once when, during a tremendous March storm, the water flowed with rapid current down Valencia street past the school building, and Rover, disconsolate and unhappy, was marooned across the way. He had conscientious scruples about getting his feet wet, so he sat down opposite the schoolhouse, lifted his great brown head and howled dismally for half a day.

Rover was formerly the property of Dr. Claire Murphy, but one day when trotting along behind his carriage Rover beheld a bright-faced boy on his way to school—John Caldwell. Rover liked the looks of John, and without so much as saying good-by to his master, promptly took John for his own. He followed him everywhere persistently refusing to leave him—and John wasn't a bit sorry. It was a case of mutual affection. The doctor took it kindly, and made John a present of the handsome St. Bernard, and further showed his good will toward Rover by seeing to it that he had a home for every year thereafter. Rover went to school with his young master, and speedily became a prime favorite. When John appeared on the campus in the morning Rover was tagging at his heels. When the going sounded for the boys and girls to get in line, Rover would solemnly seize his master's cap in his mouth and "fall in," marching up the steps, keeping time to the music, and parading through the hall with the children to the door of the room where John belonged. There he dropped down beside the door, put his huge nose between his paws and slept—with one eye open—till John appeared again.

At noontime Rover would go out on the playground with the children, and join in all the games. He regularly had his lunch from the remains of theirs, and if the boys forgot to hand out the remnants, Rover was licensed to nose about among the boxes and help himself. He would shake out the papers, eat up the bits of bread and meat, and occasional crumbs of cake that came his way. The boys made it a regular business to see to it that after Rover was through foraging the papers he had strewn about were all picked up, for it is against the rules that the grounds are littered, and not a child in Tenth-street school could have stood it to see Rover punished or banished for breaking rules.

This week Rover's master, John Caldwell—the middle name in deference to his former owner. When the principal of Tenth-street school appeared at the rooms of the Board of Education the other day and the deputy superintendent asked, "How many certificates?" the prompt response was, "Thirty-one—thirty for my children and one for Rover." "Good," was the reply of the deputy. "I'd like to sign Rover's myself," and so when the bundle of certificates were made up for Tenth-street school there was one for Rover exactly like the others, and signed by the superintendent himself.

For weeks Rover had been showing signs of old age and decrepitude. He was constantly growing weaker, but would drag himself to school every day. During the hot weather a week or two ago he was quite overcome. He insisted on going to school, but when the faithful creature had dragged himself half-way up the flight of steps to the building he sank exhausted, and the children gathered around him in alarm. The principal herself raised an umbrella over poor Rover to shield him from the sun, and the children brought water and sprinkled over the shaggy coat. Rover revived, and spent the entire day at school, petted and patted by his human playfellows, but he failed from that time on, and finally mercy impelled his former master, Dr. Murphy, who was notified of Rover's condition, to have him chloroformed. The surgeon, who has performed hundreds of operations on humans, could not bring himself to the task of chloroforming Rover, and asked a brother physician to put the dear, old, faithful animal into his last, long sleep.

There will be tears, many and sincere, shed for Rover among the children of Tenth-street school next Thursday, when the certificates are presented, and Rover is among the missing. He was "only a dog," but he was more than human in many respects, and if there is a dog heaven, Rover is there.

SPOKANE BRIDGE COLLAPSES.

Wisconsin Drummet Is Suspended on Brink of Falls by His Clothing.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.
SPOKANE, June 24.—The Howard-street bridge over the Spokane River, 150 yards east of the main falls, collapsed this afternoon shortly after a street car had passed over.

John H. Beem, a commercial traveler from Honey Creek, Wis., was carried down in the wreck, but his clothing caught, suspending him on the brink of the upper falls. He was removed unhurt.

No other person was injured.

NO matter what you pay for your cigar, we intend to convince you by actual proof that we can give you at the same price a cigar that is from one-third to one-half better in quality. That's what the United System of retailing means to the smoker. A dozen large factories in this country, in Cuba and in Porto Rico are pouring their entire output over our counters. The buying is direct. The selling is direct. We rip out all "in between" expenses and the saving is yours.
